Soviet Forces Pour Through Jap Defenses

Huge Gaps Torn In Japanese

REDS DRIVE INTO SAKHALIN ISLAND (BULLETIN)

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Wave upon wave of Red army tanks, supported by infantrymen and sabertoting cavalymen, poured through huge gaps torn in the Japanese defenses in northern Manchukuo (Manchuria) today.

Frontline dispatches told of massed artillery concentrations tearing open the enemy fortifications in the Baikal area of the Siberian-Manchukuo frontier. Through these holes the ground troops surged, being steadily reinforced and the frontline correspondents said that the breakthrough "still was unsealed."

Fresh Invasions
Meanwhile, Japanese quarters reported that other Soviet troops staged fresh invasions of Japanese-occupied territory, entering the southern Nip-held section of Sakhalin Island at several places and crossing the border into southern Korea.

Soviet bombers, shuttling back and forth to blast key targets behind the enemy lines in Manchukuo and Korea, reported that Japanese fighter and ground opposition was light.

Meantime, Russia's multi-pronged offensive against Japan's industry-ridden puppet state and against the stepping-stone approaches to northern and southern Japan was mounting in shape.

Jap defenses were described in other front dispatches as ineffective in all sectors.

Japs Unable To Hold
A dispatch received by Pravda from its correspondent on the Manchukuo front said that the Red army achieved "considerable success" during the early hours of the fighting.

The heavy blow was prepared so thoroughly that the Japanese have been unable to hold a single line along the frontier," the dispatch declared.

Meanwhile, the swarms of Soviet troops were surging deeper into northern Manchukuo (Manchuria), exploiting gains of up to 14 miles as Russian bombers paved the way for invasion of Korea.

"During the first day, our troops by-passed or surrounded a great number of Japanese units," the dispatch declared.

Star-gazers will hit the jackpot tonight, according to a report from New York. Between midnight and dawn, and again Saturday and Sunday nights, the earth is due to make its annual passage through the path of the perisid meteors. If the weather is clear, myriads of tiny meteors, some no larger than a pea, should be visible.

Change In War Outlook Speeds Postwar Plans

Reconversion Program Is Undergoing Reexamination For Speeding Up Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—War Mobilizer John W. Snyder, revealed that the government's entire reconversion program is undergoing a searching re-examination in light of a possible sudden end to the Japanese war.

"It may not come," Snyder said, "but we can't take any chances." The war mobilizer disclosed that he has conferred within the past 24 hours with representatives of the army and navy, the War Manpower Commission, the War Labor Board, the Office of Economic Stabilization, WPB and OPA.

Every phase of reconversion planning is under way—ages, prices, production and employment. The war mobilization and reconversion advisory board, composed of industry, labor and agriculture representatives, canvassed the situation (Continued on Page Two)

Chinese Forces Smash Ahead

CHUNGKING, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Chinese forces, jubilant over the entry of Russia into the war, rolled forward from Hingun today in a renewed drive against Chuanhsien, 70 miles northeast of the beleaguered Kwangsi province capital of Kweilin.

The drive which is being pushed along the Hunan-Kwangsi railroad and highway, was announced by the Chinese high command in Chungking.

A second column smashed to the outskirts of Kwanyang, some 50 miles north of Kweilin, while a third force of Chinese smashed toward Lungfukwan and the Hunan border after recapturing Kungchen.

Chinese forces pursuing Japanese along both banks of the Kan river recaptured Sakiang while the enemy continued its harassed withdrawal toward Nanchang.

Great Britain Is Electrified By Peace Move

Reconversion Program Is Undergoing Reexamination For Speeding Up Plans

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Britain was electrified today by the announcement of the Tokyo radio that Japan would accept the Allied ultimatum subject to the preservation of Emperor Hirohito's sovereignty. The news had been awaited for the past 24 hours.

The first reaction among political leaders was that Britain would not object to Hirohito remaining on the job so long as he was shown of his imperial domain.

However, these observers pointed out that the final decision must be made by the heads of the Allied governments.

Revolves On Interpretation
The future of Hirohito revolves around the interpretation of point six of the Potsdam declaration on whether the Allied governments feel the emperor of the Japanese leaders responsible for the war.

Specifically it is a question of whether Hirohito "deserved" and misled the people of Japan into embarking upon world conquest.

The majority of British opinion has been, throughout the war, that the emperor is but a tool in the hands of the Japanese war lords.

However there are other circles, particularly those with Leftist leanings, who have contended that he has been a "willing tool" of the military clique and therefore guilty under point six.

Only Big Four Can Give Order To End Hostilities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—High officials in Washington said today that there can be no cessation of hostilities with Japan until the fighting is ended by orders of the four Allied governments.

The heads of state of the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China must agree to accept Japan's offer to surrender under the Potsdam terms.

However, official Washington believes that the end of the war is in sight.

GUAM, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Admiral William F. Halsey's third fleet hit a hornet's nest of kamikaze planes and a jockey in northern Honshu, destroying 259 enemy aircraft including gliders which the Japs apparently intended to use as suicide craft.

While 1500 American and British carrier planes were raking enemy airfields and installations in the first day of their continuing raids, 11 of a number of Jap suicide planes were shot down over the fleet.

One of the kamikazes crashed into a light American warship probably a destroyer or a cruiser.

London Report Says Way Open For Surrender

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Official British quarters today said the way was paved for acceptance of the Japanese surrender offer.

Highly placed official spokesmen said article six of the Potsdam declaration would permit the retention of Emperor Hirohito.

And the statement of First Lord of the Admiralty, Admiral Alexander, that "our navy war is over" was interpreted immediately as an indication that the British government was prepared to allow the Japanese to keep their emperor.

Russian Advances Into Manchuria Climaxes Months Of Preparation

CHUNGKING, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The multi-pronged Russian drive which surged deeper into Manchuria today climaxed months of vast, secret preparations.

Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, American commander in China, conferred with Soviet military representatives to coordinate their blows against the enemy on land and sea and in the air.

American-trained Chinese paratroopers and commandos were dropped behind Japanese lines as long as four weeks ago to harass the movement of Hirohito's troops northward toward their stolen province of Manchuria.

ALL FOUR ALLIES MUST TAKE ACTION (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—President Truman is engaged in diplomatic conversations with Great Britain, Russia and China today to sound out their views on the unofficial Japanese offer to surrender unconditionally if Emperor Hirohito is preserved in office.

There was no hint from the White House as to the President's personal reactions. He conferred early this morning with his secretaries of state, war and navy.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—President Truman conferred with his top advisers for a half-hour this morning while waiting for neutral governments to transmit Japan's formal offer to surrender.

Washington officials are confident that the war is almost ended. The government's attitude was expressed by Secretary of the Navy Forrestal as he left the White House, when he said fervently: "I hope it is over."

A by-stander asserted that Secretary of War Stimson, on leaving the White House, told his chauffeur: "The war is over."

All Allies Must Act
Secretary of State Byrnes, after conferring with Mr. Truman, said the United States would not accept the Japanese offer without consulting with the other Allies—Great Britain, China and Russia.

This statement was interpreted however as indicating the United States was willing to accept Japan's reservation that the emperor's sovereignty be sustained.

Byrnes said: "We will not accept the proposal without consulting the other Allied governments concerned."

Report 40 To 45 Persons Killed In Train Wreck

MICHIGAN, N. D., Aug. 10.—(INS)—Forty to forty-five persons were killed in the rear-end collision of two sections of the Great Northern Railroad's crack Empire Builder passenger train, railroad and military officials today estimated.

Another 30 passengers were reported injured, several of them critically. Most of the dead and injured were said to be military personnel.

The accident, one of the worst on Great Northern lines, occurred last night when the second section made up of day coaches plowed into the standing first section which had stopped near the town of Gladstone.

Believe Big Four Will Accept Japan's Offer Of Surrender

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—High officials in Washington today expressed belief the "Big Four" will accept Japan's offer of surrender, even though it includes a guarantee of the emperor's sovereignty.

The Potsdam ultimatum, which Domel says Japan has accepted, contained no allusion to the emperor. It did carry a guarantee to permit freedom of religion in Japan, which was widely interpreted as guaranteeing safe conduct to the emperor, who rules by "divine right" and is looked upon as a god by his people.

The Potsdam terms were issued July 26 by President Truman, former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Chiang Kai Shek of China.

Terms Presented
The terms were:
1. Elimination for all time of the authority and influence of the emperor.

President Truman Gives Final Ultimatum To Japan In Address Last Night

REPORT IS GIVEN ON BERLIN PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Allied world today awaited Japan's reaction to President Truman's final ultimatum to surrender or be destroyed.

The President told the domed Japanese that unless they give up now, their cities will be utterly wiped out by intensified atomic bomb attacks, and the enemy nation further ravaged by new secret military onslaughts.

Must Surrender
Japan, Mr. Truman calmly declared, must surrender or be wholly destroyed.

The Chief Executive's final ultimatum to Japan was made in his half-hour report to the nation on the recent Big Three Potsdam conference. Speaking from the White House in a world-wide radio hook-up, he declared:

"We shall continue to use it (the atomic bomb) until we completely destroy Japan's power to make war. Only a Japanese surrender will stop us."

The President spoke as the result of a parley in Berlin (Continued on Page Twenty)

Not Received

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—An official statement from No. 10 Downing street where the British cabinet was called in special session this morning said that as yet no official communication has been received from the Japanese on the reported surrender offer.

The statement added, however, that communications are being passed on to the United States, the Soviet Union and the Chinese government with regard to the Tokyo broadcast which offered Japan's surrender if Emperor Hirohito's sovereignty is safeguarded.

It also was stated that when the "situation" is clarified further statements will be issued.

In the meantime, the communication said, "Everyone should continue working."

No Official Offer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—President Truman up to 10:45 a. m. (EWT), had not received any official surrender offer from Japan.

This announcement was made by Press Secretary Charles C. Ross. He checked with the president two minutes before holding his usual morning news conference.

Ross said: "The president has had no official communication from Japan." (Continued on Page Two)

REPORT EMPEROR ORDERS PEACE MOVE (BULLETIN)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Japanese radio today electrified the world with a surrender offer from Japan to the Allied might of America, Britain, Russia and China and requested a speedy answer to its bid for peace.

Domel, the official Japanese agency, said the Japanese government based its surrender bid upon a single term—the sovereignty of Emperor Hirohito.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Japanese government bowed today before superior American, British, Russian and Chinese might, agreeing to surrender provided the Mikado's sovereignty is protected.

The enemy's willingness to call it "quits" was revealed when Tokyo sent a message to the Swiss and Swedish governments, seeking their mediation offices.

According to the official Jap Domei agency, heard by the FCC, Emperor Hirohito's government is prepared to order its armed forces to cease resistance, provided that the Mikado's sovereignty is not contested.

The Domei dispatch pointed out that Hirohito had sought to obtain Russian mediation, with a view to saving mankind from the calamities to be imposed upon them by further continuation of the war.

Unfortunately, these efforts in the interest of peace having failed, the Japanese government, the broadcast said, have decided upon the following:

Japanese Proposal
The Japanese government are ready to accept the terms enumerated in the Potsdam declaration which was issued at Potsdam on July 26, 1945, by the heads of the governments of the United States, Great Britain, and China, and also subscribed to by the Soviet government, with the understanding that the said declaration does not comprise any demand which prejudices the right of the Japanese people to a new constitution.

The Japanese request for the use of Sweden's good offices in transmitting their surrender message was made about noon (Swedish time).

Playground Event Raises Over $100 For Croton Field

Close to 400 persons attended the social affair in the Croton school yard Wednesday evening for the benefit of the playground, netting the committee over $100 toward their $300 goal, according to Mrs. Rose Ezzo, chairman of the committee.

Entertainment opened with a lively accordion and drums duo by Angela Marie Fava and her little brother Philip. The two children were the stars of the evening, and their duo performance was followed by vocal solos by Angela.

Two trumpet solos, "Cribbabin" and "Carnival of Venice" were played by Joe Colalucia, after which Angelina Yacibone, young accordionist, played a polka and "Marie Elena." Two vocal numbers, "The More I See You" and "You Belong To My Heart" were sung by Peggy Ezzo and twirling, under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Cranney, concluded the program.

Mayor Addresses Group

Mayor John Haven spoke to the group assembled on the school ground during the evening. Other guests present were James Gibson, councilman; Arthur Alexander, playground director; Frank Conn, and W. A. Hoffmaster, principal of Croton school. Marcheline Fava was master of ceremonies for the entertainment.

Those who served with Mrs. Ezzo on the committee for the social were: Mrs. Vales Metta, Mrs. Clara Colalucia, Mrs. Mary Cook, Mrs. Jennie Pia, Mrs. Minnie Dimucci, Mrs. Anna Colalucia and Mrs. Armenia Perkins. Anthony Colalucia was in charge of setting up the tables and of arranging other facilities.

Funds will be used to build a playground shelter for the children and to provide water for them. Besides the money raised from the event, a number of donations of money were received, as well as contributions of cakes and service for the social.

General Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the U. S. army strategic air forces, said complete details of the atomic bomb strike at Nagasaki situated on western Kyushu Island, 145 miles southwest of Hiroshima, will not be known until later reconnaissance photos are studied.

top advisers, Byrnes, Forrestal and Stimson but the conference was short under the circumstances. Mr. Truman reached his office at 8:30 a. m. (EWT) as usual. Fifteen minutes later, Byrnes, Forrestal and Stimson walked into the White House. Their conference lasted about 25 minutes.

Believe Acceptance To Come

Many high officials privately expressed belief the "Big Four" will accept Japan's offer, even though it deviates slightly from the Potsdam terms.

The Potsdam demand for "unconditional surrender" merely predicted the Japanese "religious freedom" without mentioning the emperor in any way. This was interpreted as guaranteeing safe conduct to the emperor because in Japan he is god and is symbolic of their religion.

Sen. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah, an expert on Japanese problems, urged the United States to accept the offer.

Top military and naval authorities in Washington also recommended acceptance of the terms. They believe retention of the emperor's sovereignty is a dire necessity to end all fighting in the Pacific.

Would Keep Emperor

They expressed fear that if the emperor is removed or his local authority impaired, various fanatical Japanese factions will continue battling despite the government's surrender and that tens of thousands of Americans lives may be lost as a result.

The military-naval authorities hope that the emperor will order all his armies to lay down their arms and that his order will be obeyed. Only in that case can unconditional surrender be put into effect without further loss of American lives.

Official Washington was not surprised by the delay in arrival of the Japanese peace offer at the White House. It was pointed out that the Japanese asked both the Swiss and Swedish governments to transmit the offer to the allies.

This would mean that the Swiss and Swedish would have to translate the offer into their own languages to be transmitted to their home governments and then relayed from Bern and Stockholm to Washington.

May Not Come Direct

It was believed the Swiss or Swedish in Japan would send their messages direct to Washington.

Washington was quiet. Early morning crowds en route to work sought newspaper extras like usual. Many government workers missed first radio broadcasts as they were then en route to work.

Sen. Elbert Thomas (D-Utah, an expert on Japanese problems, urged the United States to accept the offer.

Top military and naval authorities in Washington also recommended acceptance of the terms. They believe retention of the emperor's sovereignty is a dire necessity to end all fighting in the Pacific.

Would Keep Emperor

They expressed fear that if the emperor is removed or his local authority impaired, various fanatical Japanese factions will continue battling despite the government's surrender and that tens of thousands of Americans lives may be lost as a result.

The military-naval authorities hope that the emperor will order all his armies to lay down their arms and that his order will be obeyed. Only in that case can unconditional surrender be put into effect without further loss of American lives.

Official Washington was not surprised by the delay in arrival of the Japanese peace offer at the White House. It was pointed out that the Japanese asked both the Swiss and Swedish governments to transmit the offer to the allies.

This would mean that the Swiss and Swedish would have to translate the offer into their own languages to be transmitted to their home governments and then relayed from Bern and Stockholm to Washington.

May Not Come Direct

It was believed the Swiss or Swedish in Japan would send their messages direct to Washington.

Washington was quiet. Early morning crowds en route to work sought newspaper extras like usual. Many government workers missed first radio broadcasts as they were then en route to work.

There was suppressed excitement at the White House but business was transacted in orderly routine. A handful of the curious gathered in a little cluster outside the main door.

at meetings in Washington Monday and Tuesday.

Planning Upset

The news of this week, the atomic bombing of Japan and Russia's entry into the Pacific conflict, has upset everybody's planning. Snyder admitted. He added that "we are approaching some of the problems very cautiously."

Has it become become necessary to re-examine the whole recovery and setup in view of the possible sudden ending of the Japanese war? he was asked.

Yes, Snyder replied.

Hitherto, government agencies have anticipated an "interim period" of many months between the termination of hostilities in Europe and V-J day. They have shaped their reconstruction plans accordingly, for a gradual transition to a peacetime economy.

New Policy Schedule

The War Labor Policy was scheduled to transmit to Economic Stabilization Administration today a new wage policy regarding the "hot labor" formula during a partial conversion period. It has now been held up in light of recent war developments. The program originally envisaged:

1. Voluntary wage increases in exchange of "little steel" to be allowed above the compensating price level.

2. The WLB to be given authority to order wage rate increases above the formula, even if higher prices are required when down-grading of workers, loss of incentive pay and reduction of overtime cause real hardship and imperil employee living standards.

Tokyo's Arsenal Is Again Bombed

GUAM, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Tokyo's vital arsenal area shattered at noon today under the impact of one-ton demolition bombs dropped by more than 70 Superfortresses, escorted by 60 two-engine fighters.

Just a few hours previous 90 B-29s hit the Amagasaki oil refinery and tank farm. Returning crewmen said the target resembled a "gigantic torch" with smoke billowing up 20,000 feet.

Tokyo's arsenal is near the 11 square miles of industrial areas burned out April 14 by 350 Superforts in an incendiary raid. The arsenal includes gunpowder and munition works, ordnance factories, research laboratories, barracks and warehouses.

Gen. Carl A. Spaatz declared in his U. S. strategic air forces communiqué that "good to excellent" results were reported by B-29s against the one of Japan's chief sources of munitions.

Superforts met "slight" Jap interception and "meager" to "intense" anti-aircraft fire at Amagasaki.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

President Facing Many Domestic Issues

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—During his absence in Europe, President Truman has been criticized by some Liberals and Laborites for not having prodded congress into passing legislation necessary to bridge over the economic gulf between peace and war. Now, with Russia's entrance into the struggle giving rise to predictions of a quick end to the war, the president's critics will probably feel themselves even more justified in their views.

The man who four months ago was projected into one of the toughest spots in all of history has a sense of humor, and it is fortunate he has. His critics must cause him to smile a little while as he reflects on the difficulties of an office that has become almost impossible in the extent of the load it puts on one individual.

When he took the oath of office, Truman had a clear choice. He could shoot the works; pile everything on congress, risk the inevitable criticism which certain essential legislation will touch off. Or he could concentrate on those measures necessary to give this country leadership in world affairs, the responsible leadership that must go with the overwhelming power we have developed.

Chose Latter Course
 The new president chose the latter course. He did everything he could to get along with congress. It was his first duty, as he saw it, to help bring about ratification of the world charter, to take this country into the Bretton Woods agreement and the United Nations food organization.

That was accomplished in three months. A year ago no one would have dreamed that such a miracle was possible. It has happened so recently that any appraisal of the president's share in bringing about this miracle is difficult or impossible.

But consider for a moment what might have happened under other circumstances. If Truman had tried to force through certain recovery legislation he would almost certainly have precipitated the kind of angry legislative log jam that would have held up both foreign and domestic measures.

Would the charter have been ratified? Would Bretton Woods have been adopted? I do not think so. It seems to me that this course would have poked the delay and perhaps even the ultimate defeat of the program essential to our cooperation in world affairs.

Now In The Past
 Now, of course, that is in the past. In the short space of three months we have taken great steps into the future. There are steps that cannot be retraced even through many would like to turn us back on the path along which we have come.

On the military side, too, great steps have been taken. Russia's entry into the Japanese war was planned at Potsdam. Other momentous decisions reached at that historic conference undoubtedly embraced final plans for Allied victory. Those decisions rounded out the wide mosaic of our foreign program.

Now the president must face up to difficult domestic issues. An acute politician, he knows better than most of us on his side lines that the honeymoon is just about at an end. He must make decisions which will offend some of his conservative friends in congress, some of those who were willing to go along with him on the foreign program. He must make these decisions because the fate of his administration turns on them.

For Quick Shift
 The president must get the country ready for a quick shift of gears from war to peace. If the gears jam in the course of that shift, and they will jam unless we act quickly, the nation can be plunged into a depression from which recovery would be long and painful.

Higher unemployment compensation benefits, unemployment benefits, and other measures necessary to cover the transition period. That is an umbrella against mass unemployment. If the unemployment does not come, then we will not have to use the umbrella.

To get that through congress will take a fight. Other necessary measures will be stoutly resisted on Capitol Hill.

We do not have two months in which to wait. The impression has grown here since the president's return that he will be compelled to call congress back into session long before October 8. In fact, even before that appears in print, a presidential call may have been issued.

That will not be popular. Congress needs a rest and a change. It is important for congressmen to find out what people back home are thinking and saying. But if the president decides that quick action is essential, then he will summon the lawmakers back to Washington.

He must decide the issue of the size of the army and air force. They must be reduced to a level which will not cause a fiscal crisis.

All this has accumulated while the president has been at Potsdam. He couldn't possibly have done it all at once. Let's give him credit for what he has achieved.

TEMPUS FUGIT
 Two WACs awaiting deployment in England were sighted along the harbor at Hastings. While at the end of one pier, they tried vainly to make out the names of various vessels which were passing at a distance.

An old oil stepped up to them and politely offered to lend them a consideration expressed but not uttered—a binocular glass.

They thanked him profusely and made good use of it. When they had seen enough, they returned it—not forgetting the consideration—and one of them complimented the old fellow on having a fine quality instrument.

He was well-pleased with her admiration, and warming up to the subject, he said: "A good glass? Well, I should say it was a good glass! Why, pretty low, how could it help being a good glass when it was given to me, for good service I had rendered, by the great Lord Nelson himself!"

"Oh, good gracious!" exclaimed one of the WACs—a former high school teacher of English history. "How can that possible be? Why Lord Nelson has been dead for nearly 140 years!"

"Let me tell you," exclaimed the old seaman, without batting an eyelid, "no time do I!"

Precocious children should not be discouraged from seeking knowledge but rather encouraged with the help of their elders to develop their minds. When your grandson is old enough to understand and to read, buy him a good reference library where he may ferret out his own answers.

You will notice, children of attentive parents who read to them and supervise their education are usually bright and leaders in their class. Listen to the Quiz Kids on the radio and realize that, despite their brilliant minds, they would not have it at their tender years, attained such vast general knowledge without parental help and guidance. Of course, all children are not endowed with such intellectuality, but even the most mediocre can be improved tremendously with proper assistance.

Politics And Cabinet Members

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—THE PERSISTENT and printed reports that President Truman intends to bring ex-Senator (now Judge) Sherman Minton, of Indiana, either into his Cabinet or to place him in some other high Government position is not reassuring from whatever angle it is viewed—except, perhaps, Mr. Minton's.

Among the positions with which Mr. Minton's name has been connected recently are those of Secretary of War and Secretary of the Interior. There is nothing about his career, his record, or his personality to justify enthusiasm about the prospect of his elevation to either. On the contrary, the mere idea depresses a considerable number of people who knew him during the years he was in the Senate. For it is entirely accurate to say that Mr. Minton was not loved by his colleagues. It was not at all because he was an ardent New Dealer that he was unpopular. He was a Republican and then it can't go too far to say that he was a Republican. Some ardent New Dealers were personally popular with both sides.

For example, as against a New Dealer as Assistant Secretary Archibald MacLachlan had personal friends among some really hot reactionaries. What aroused feeling in the Senate about Mr. Minton was his inability to put his arguments in the most effective possible way. That was his peculiar gift.

The explanation advanced of his expected appointment is that he wants to get back into political life and that Mr. Truman, who served with him in the Senate, liked him, which is surprising because they were so completely different persons and so completely different in their views on so many things.

But, aside from the personal side, another reason for something almost like a demand which the likelihood of Mr. Minton entering the Cabinet strikes among those anxious to see the Truman Administration strong and competent is that he is just one more politician. The feeling is growing here that Mr. Truman is rather badly surrounded by politicians with political aims and that the need for someone of administrative ability and experience in that body is becoming clearer with every new selection.

Within a little more than three months the President has made six Cabinet appointments. Truman there is no doubt in the claim that he is an improvement over the Roosevelt group. The Truman appointees come very far indeed from constituting a great Cabinet, and Mr. Truman has disappointed those who hoped he would surround himself with advisers chosen from the ablest and most experienced men available. An analysis of the new Cabinet shows, however, that the President has been in the field of politics so far as business and administrative experience is concerned, they have had little more than Mr. Truman himself—some of them even less.

There is, for example, the Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, whose whole background until he went to the Supreme Court, was political. (Continued on Page Seven)

Japanese Air Inactivity Proves Puzzling
 Argentine Now Big Problem Facing Byrnes
 Congress May Have To Move During Winter

By HELEN ESSARY
 (Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—There is a lot of speculation as to why Japan's air power has not struck back at Allied sea-air raids against Japan. But the truth is that nobody knows outside the Japanese high command.

There are two main schools of thought in the services, and the result has been a great many lively arguments. One group contends that Japan's air power is too weak to concentrate their attack against the United States invasion fleet.

There is still a third school of thought which argues that, regardless of which contention is right, the result is proving disastrous to the Japanese. In this group is Gen. George C. Kenney, who says that an air force on the ground is just like a man on a horse.

American air power is growing in leaps and bounds, and it is not only the Japanese who are being out-gunned, but the Japanese who are being out-gunned.

Argentine Problem
 One of the first jobs which Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will have to tackle when he returns from Potsdam is the Argentine question. A showdown on United States relations with the South American republic seems to be in the cards.

There is a great deal of controversy within the State department concerning the United States policy which supported Argentine entry into the company of nations signing the United Nations charter at San Francisco.

Byrnes will face the task of deciding whether the United States should support Argentina, which is a great many adherents of both sides. Some think that Byrnes will line up with Hull, others that he will follow a middle course.

Members of the Roosevelt cabinet who have left office in the Truman administration shake their heads and say that the Argentine question was quite different after the vice president took over.

The cabinet meetings of the late president, they said, usually started off with two or three associates by the chief executive. Mr. Roosevelt often would take with a cabinet member who had been away on vacation, and the meeting would be a very different one.

Truman Is Serious
 The length of a Roosevelt cabinet meeting often had no relation to its importance. That is all changed now. The first requirement of the Truman cabinet meeting is that all members should be present and heard at the opening hour which is 2 p.m. EDT on Tuesday.

Mr. Truman keeps busy in taking his seat at the head of the table and says: "Good afternoon, gentlemen, we shall have the weekly reports."

Each member then reports what his department has been doing during the preceding week. It is a very serious business, and it is usually after the president's report from the meeting.

Congress may have to move temporarily next January. Capitol Architect David Lynn hopes to be able to begin construction work early in 1946 on the new Senate and House chambers. These new buildings will cost about $10 million and will be completed in 1948.

The Senate probably will hold its session in the old Senate chamber in the Capitol, while the Supreme Court chamber where Daniel Webster delivered his famous reply to Hayne, will be the House chamber. The new House chamber will be the new House chamber where the House will hold its sessions.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

So much has been printed recently about careful driving that I certainly had not expected to add anything to the many official warnings.

But I just had an experience when I was on my way home from Denbury about a half hour ago and was driving along at a pretty good clip—about forty miles an hour.

Suddenly I heard a terrific crash and then the screams of women. I looked ahead and there smack against a telephone pole was the most awful mess I have ever seen.

A little car had completely smashed. Glass broken. Pendants, looking like crumpled tissue paper, were all over the place.

The car was partially overturned and the driver, bleeding from his forehead and covered with glass splinters, was sitting half-dead in his seat.

Three Unconscious
 And in the rear were the other three passengers. Two women and a man. All were unconscious for the time. All were bleeding profusely. One of the women was screaming with pain.

The State Police car arrived followed in a few minutes by an ambulance. The doctor looked at the passengers. One was dying. The others were in serious condition. The man had a possible fracture of the skull. The second woman apparently had internal injuries.

The police officer questioned the driver who, at that time and place, was in a bad way. He was seriously injured.

They were going on a picnic. The car was old and the tires were in poor condition. All agreed.

Blowout Cause
 He was going about twenty-five miles an hour, he said, when suddenly there was a report like a gunshot. A blowout.

He lost control of the car and it skidded over to the right side of the road and crashed into the pole.

If another car had come in the opposite direction all four and the passengers in the other car might have been killed instantly.

The accident occurred on a main-traveled highway, and the minutes after it occurred more than fifty cars were packed on both sides of the road with the drivers and passengers looking on.

I drove slowly by the scene, no less than thirty seconds and I have a hard time writing this. I am still shivering.

My time as a reporter. My car is old. My glasses are as good as lost. How about yours?

The World and the Mud Puddles
 FOR BETTER EDUCATION
 I have in this column at various times criticized and satirized the various educational facilities of these United States, starting with the public schools and continuing the criticism through the State universities and down to the local high schools and universities.

The children in the public schools are not taught as they should be. The fundamentals of all education, the Classics and the Sciences, are given up for the sake of the latest fad.

Over in Warren County, Iowa, last fall there was such a dearth of teachers that school officials considered closing rural schools. Eighty grandmothers who had taught the young boys and girls in another generation came to the rescue and took on teaching assignments.

In a community where the population is so small, it is not surprising that the school officials are so short of teachers. The result of this is that the quality of education is so poor that the children are not learning anything.

Our own way is that if the volunteer schoolmasters of the 1880s are allowed to stay on the job a few years there will be more real education among the kids of Warren County than there has been for many a year. The youngsters may be short on a few tricks, but they are pretty sure to learn how to read and spell and figure—something that a few of our present day school

Japs Sought To Secure Secret Of Atomic Power

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The San Francisco Examiner said Thursday in an exclusive story that Japanese scientists attempted a year before Pearl Harbor to get America's secret of atomic power.

Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, University of California physicist whose cyclotron was the precursor of the atomic bomb, foiled the Nipponese in what the paper called a "cloak and dagger game."

Early in 1940, shortly after uranium fission was discovered by Dr. Lise Meitner, three Japanese physicists, Drs. Imori, Yasaki and Watanabe, visited the California laboratory.

"Never losing ability," the Examiner said, "the American scientists filled paper Jap ears with a constant flow of accurate, but worthless, information. Then they sent the Japs away with smiles and polite hand-shakes, telling the Tokyo scientists they were so sorry, but a brand new rule forbade them to open their laboratory to foreign visitors," the newspaper said.

The Examiner identified Yasaki as a Japanese physicist who had been more than a year at the Berkeley laboratory, several years prior to his 1940 visit.

At that time the paper said, the laboratory was opened to the Japanese who were furnished with blueprints of a cyclotron, the atom-smasher, for invention of which Dr. Lawrence was awarded the 1939 Nobel prize.

Stalin Seeks To Restore Former Russian Holdings

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Evening News diplomatic correspondent said today that Generalissimo Stalin informed Chinese Prime Minister T. V. Soong that Russia's first aim in the Japanese war was the restoration of Port Arthur and Dairen under Soviet control.

The territory was lost in the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-1905. The correspondent said other Stalin aims were the creation of an "independent" Manchurian people's republic, run by North China Communists similar to the Mongolian governing body, creation of a people's government of Korea and the inclusion of Yenian Communists within the Chungking government.

The newspaper said official diplomatic circles are convinced that the Japanese war will end within a fortnight and that the Soviet armies will confine their main military operations to the North Chinese mainland.

It was predicted that the Soviet would not be concerned with the war on the Japanese homeland or other Pacific battlegrounds.

SPOTLIGHT

Of Today

(International News Service)

MANCHURIA

Russia's entry into the Pacific war has brought that conflict back where it started 40 years ago—Manchuria, traditional "powder keg" of eastern Asia.

The immediate prize is control of Manchuria's vast agricultural, mineral and industrial wealth and potentiality. For many years the source of bitter rivalry among China, Japan and Russia.

Because of its vast deposits of iron, coal and other metals, its thousands of square miles of fertile farmlands, and huge industries greatly developed by the Japanese in the last decade, the nation "valued" gains dominance over Manchuria may well hold the balance of power in eastern Asia.

During the last few decades Manchuria has been a frontier territory under the divided control of China, Russia and Japan. Before the Japs threw the Russians out of Manchuria in 1905, the Russians virtually dominated the entire country. By the early 1930s, the Nipponese had taken over the last Russian holdings and had invested Jap funds heavily in Manchuria.

Postwar settlement of Manchuria's fate poses a weighty problem for the treaty makers. Final disposal of this "Poland of the east" may well impose the supreme test on the world charter.

Bandits Holdup Inn Near Harbor

Report Trio Secured $800 In Morning Robbery At Castleview Inn

Three armed bandits, about 9:30 a. m. morning, tied up three persons, secured Castleview Inn of approximately $800, a case of liquor, some cigarettes, a fan and trinkets and escaped in a gray Plymouth auto in the direction of Youngstown, according to state police, who with city police are seeking the bandits. Castleview Inn is on route 422 about a mile west of Harbor bridge.

According to the report received by the state police, three unmasked yet armed bandits dashed into the inn about 9:20 a. m. One bandit, apparently the "finger man," pointed out the proprietor, C. D. Galasso. The owner was forced to open the safe then was tied up as was his wife and an employee.

The bandits took about $800 from the safe, according to the report, gathered up liquor, cigarettes, trinkets and dashed from the place. They leaped into a car in which one report said there were two other bandits and the bandit car whirled away.

A patron saw the man leave the hotel, hurried inside and released the three persons and a telephone call of the robbery reached the state police at 9:45 a. m. The latter flashed word to Ohio, Sharon and New Castle police.

Within a few moments a squad of state police, Deputy Sheriff Thomas O'Brien and city police in cars combed various roads in search of the bandits.

No trace of the bandits had yet been found early this afternoon. It was not known whether the gray Plymouth carried a Pennsylvania or Ohio license. However, it was believed to have been a 1941 model.

Following a several days investigation Captain of Police Willie McMullen, City Detective John G. Moore, and County Detective Charles Ross arrested a young man who gave the name of Sam Filizenz, West Cherry street, on a charge of burglary in connection with the theft in late May of approximately $1,200 worth of liquor from the State Liquor store, Seventh ward. The young man pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Alderman James C. Brice yesterday. He was held in the county jail in default of $4,000 bail, pending a hearing.

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna also announced that the officers were questioning a young man from Ohio in connection with the theft. The young man denied complicity and agreed to come here without extradition papers. He lives in Youngstown, but was arrested in Warren at midnight last night.

May Not Scrap War Equipment At End Of War

Guns And Artillery Equipment May Be Stored In Hermetically Sealed Containers

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Aug. 10.—America's big guns and other heavy artillery equipment may be stored in hermetically-sealed containers instead of being scrapped at the close of World War II. In co-operation with the Pittsburgh Ordnance district, methods and procedures for this storage program are being developed by United States Steel's American Bridge Company plant here.

Extensive research and experiments have been under way for several months in a section of the expansive Ambridge plant facilities. A welded steel container closely resembling the army quonset hut has been developed. The equipment after being stored in these sealed-in units will be subject to an inert gas atmosphere which, replacing the normal factors of oxygen and moisture, it is anticipated will prevent deterioration of the contents over a long period of time. Equipment so preserved will be ready for use in the event of another Pearl Harbor.

Many steel containers of this type have been constructed and are undergoing further analysis and research.

Under the plan now being worked out, reconditioned artillery pieces will be delivered to the Ambridge plant for "packaging" and ultimately shipped to designated storage locations. The containers are designed for storage almost anywhere under extreme temperatures, ranging from 60 degrees below to 170 degrees above zero.

Should it come time to open the "cans" and use the guns again, a burner's torch would do the trick.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

He is recognized as a very shrewd politician, but his warmest friends do not clothe him with administrative ability. Then there is Secretary of the Treasury Fred Vinson, an old-line Kentucky politician; Anderson, who has been in politics most of his life; Postmaster General Robert Hannegan, a Missouri machine politician; Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, a Washington politician and senatorial intimate; and Attorney General Tom Clark, who is a Texas politician.

THERE is nothing especially remarkable with any of these politicians. Some of them are pretty good fellows who should make pretty good records. They are not brilliant, but they are clever and sensible. But, if to this list of six politicians there is added another politician in the person of Mr. Milton, of Indiana, and Indiana politicians are regarded more purely political than those from any other state, it does seem that will be almost too many politicians for the good of Mr. Truman, the good of the country, and the good of the politicians. Politicians, of course, are not necessarily inferior individuals, and it is an undoubted asset to have men in the top layer of government who know politics and politicians. But it is easily possible to have too many politicians. For one of whom is an administrator in any President's Cabinet. It may be Mr. Truman does not realize that his appointments, limited so far to friends, from Missouri and politicians with whom he served in the Senate, indicate his rather narrow horizon and are beginning to border on the ridiculous.

IF THE reports concerning Mr. Milton prove correct, the President will have created a Cabinet for himself not in the past representative of the country but exclusively representative of the politician class of politicians with whom he associated in Congress and Missouri. When that picture is more fully presented, as it is sure to be if the Milton appointment goes through, it will not enhance the Truman prestige or reputation. And it will not make for the common-sense competence in administering the Government which is the big thing hoped of Mr. Truman.

Learning Responsibility
We let him learn responsibility for taking care of himself and his own possessions as soon as he is able and help him find satisfaction in so doing. We let him carry on his own conversation. We let him answer the questions meant for him. We let him have as many choices and decisions as his protection and the rights of others warrant.

We train him in responsibility for bringing himself in from play, sending himself regularly to bed, preparing himself for meals, and the like, in accordance with clearly established standards. Gradually he is assigned one and later a few more, simple tasks to be done every day; also allowed to do some things which don't seem to be drudgery. He learns to handle money, and to get along agreeably with his playmates. He learns to cooperate and is liked by other children and adults in the neighborhood. All these things he learns best in a home of love and sympathy and understanding, where he feels secure, with parents who themselves are good citizens.

Soviet Newspaper Says Russia Enters To Shorten War

Charges Long Record Of 'Bloody Conquest' To Japan In Uphold War Declaration

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The official Soviet newspaper, Izvestia, charging the Japanese with a long bloody history of colonial robbery and imperialism, said today that the Soviet Union's entrance into the Japanese war was primarily to bring about a rapid reestablishment of universal peace.

The lead editorial in the newspaper said the entire nation as one man will heartily support its Soviet government in its decision to declare war upon Japan.

"Bloody Conquest"
The newspaper decried Japan's long record of "bloody conquests" and said the war lords of Japan had turned down an attempt of the Allied powers to spare it from further destruction and bloodshed.

The newspaper said Japanese militarists "many times have demonstrated not only their adventure but treachery and disdain to existing international treaties and obligations."

Izvestia said that history of the wars of the past fifty years proves Japanese appeasing declarations are worthless.

The editorial expressed the feelings of the ordinary man in the streets as deep bitterness and hate has been expressed in Russia since 1904-1905 when the Japanese took Port Arthur.

NIMITZ HEARS REPORT

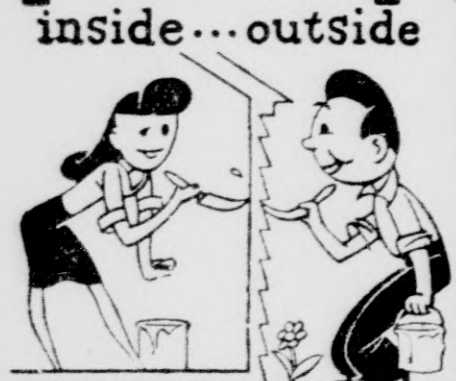

GUAM, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz was informed today of reports emanating from Dornier news agency saying Japan had made representations through Switzerland and Sweden for the purpose of capitulating according to the Potsdam terms.

Nimitz's reply to his informant was "Thank you, I've already heard the report."

Palladium is a rare metallic element of the platinum group. It is silver-white, ductile, malleable, and more easily fusible than platinum. It is now popular for jewelry.

Japs Proposed
Back In 1944

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Shakespeare was right: "The old order changeth."

The Japanese government, which today was prepared to accept the Potsdam ultimatum as the only way out of the war, issued its own peace terms on Aug. 23, 1944.

As outlined by Rear Adm. Tane-sugu and Yasu Nishiyama, the Japanese "terms" were to include:

"Complete destruction of American naval power and maritime trade."
"Abolition of private banking institutions and trade unions."
"Restriction of American steel and all production."

"Destruction of all shipyards except those building river and coastal vessels."
"Creation of a political authority, free from 'influences' wielded by political interests" and modeled after the pure sovereignty of Japan, to maintain strict surveillance over the United States for ten or more years, or perhaps indefinitely."

China's five northwest provinces are estimated to raise 25 per cent of her cattle, 40 per cent of her sheep and 43 per cent of her camels.

Sgt. D. S. Gibson Gets Silver Star

Local Sergeant Receives Promotion
For Courageous Action
During Battle

Sgt. DeWayne S. Gibson, of the 28th Infantry of the Ninth Army, has been promoted from the rank of private and has been awarded the Silver Star medal for meritorious achievement according to record received here.

The young sergeant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Gibson, of R. D. 1. At present he is stationed at Camp Chicago, in France. Sgt. Gibson has been in the service for 13 months and overseas for over eight months.

His citation reads as follows: "Sgt. (then private) DeWayne S. Gibson, for gallantry in action in connection with military operations against the enemy on February 2, 1945 in France. Just before dawn on the outskirts of Appenweier, Pst. Gibson's company was halted by intense fire from tanks and automatic weapons. Setting out with another scout Pvt. Gibson cautiously advanced when he noted two Germans in a signally equipped machine gun nest. From a distance of 30 yards he killed the crewman and wounded the other with rifle fire. Instantly another automatic weapon opened the field with devastating fire killing Private Gibson's comrade before he could reach cover."

Undeterred, this courageous soldier kept steadily forward and eliminated another and crew with one hand grenade. Scaling a stone wall and observing an enemy tank from a prone position he backtracked to his platoon and directed effective artillery fire upon the armored vehicle. This gallantry with utter disregard for his own personal safety reflects great credit upon Pvt. Gibson and is in keeping with the finest tradition of the Infantry.

By-Passed Japs May Continue To Fight Allies

CHUNGKING, Aug. 10.—(INS)—When the Japs finally surrender, the Allies may encounter many difficulties in making it stick.

Except for Emperor Hirohito, there is no man or single group of men in all Japan with sufficient authority to make the Japs in isolated outposts quit fighting.

Local commanders in such outposts as Japanese Pacific Islands or in remote swatches of Malaya, China and Manchuria will have a precedent for not laying down their arms.

They may refuse to stop fighting on the grounds that the emperor's "divine wishes" were for them to continue fighting and it would not be surprising for them to contend that Hirohito would be a prisoner of peace-loving leaders in Tokyo.

Believe Japs Would Quit
However, if Hirohito himself gives the order and it is transmitted to the field commanders in isolated positions, observers in Chungking believe the Japs would quit. But it probably would have to be transmitted in some secret code.

Another suggestion has been made that a neutral could be made of the emperor ordering the surrender and then films and cameras could be dropped on resistance spots by Allied planes.

If Jap field generals insist on fighting even though Tokyo should surrender, then a long and bloody mop up campaign will be in prospect in southeast Asia, China and elsewhere.

British forces of the Southeast Asia Command obviously are aware of such a possibility. This correspondent was told recently by officials in Adm. Lord Mountbatten's headquarters at Kandy that the British are anxious to get ahead with the job in their area.

They are planning to employ the ample amphibious and air forces under Mountbatten's command for a series of swift blows to recapture those parts of the empire where isolated Japs are still lurking.

STOVE EXPLOSION BURNS KILL WOMAN

CLAYTONIA, Pa., Aug. 10.—(INS)—Rosella Reeder, 31, Claytonia, who suffered severe burns when a kitchen stove exploded and destroyed her home a week ago, died yesterday in Butler County Memorial Hospital.

The fire occurred August 2. Miss Reeder was preparing her evening meal when the explosion took place. Joseph Vidmar, who conducts the Claytonia general store, was first to reach the scene. West Sunbury volunteer firemen were called, but were unable to save the building.

TOMATOES

When our real old people were children, tomatoes were not such a popular food as they are now. Some people said that they were poisonous and should not be eaten. Gradually it was learned that they were good to eat and that they were a valuable addition to our diet.

When vitamins were discovered we found out why tomatoes are so valuable. For people may eat all the tomatoes they want. They satisfy the appetite but do not provide any fat.

Some people are afraid to eat tomatoes for fear that they contain injurious acid. Tomatoes are valuable because they prevent the formation of acid in the body.

Perhaps their greatest value lies in the vitamins which they have. They help the appetite too. Although they do not provide much nourishment, they help a person to eat bread and other food.

their two weeks of camp, according to Miss Esther Post, camp director. Activities began with dinner and a "Scouts Own" a special scout service, on Sunday, and continued with a program in the barn Monday evening. One unit, the "Sher-woods" presented "Pokey Hunters", while the Peter Pans acted out "Little Red Riding Hood", which was read by Joan Jessel. With Lois Ralph as leader of the hunters, the Gypsies went on a lion hunt. Almost all of Wednesday was spent in preparations for the bean-hole bean supper, with the girls digging the trenches immediately after breakfast. By noon the bean-hole was filled with a bed of glowing embers and by 1:30 the Dutch oven was lowered into the hole and covered. Photographers took activity and group pictures of the campers on the same day. A camp council meeting is being held this evening to report on the progress made by each unit toward its objectives. The Girl Scouts are camping at the Lawrence County Boy Scout camp.

Milady's Styles Are Again Drawing Much Attention

"New" is again the word which will be used for milady's styles this year and, as usual, it will be entirely incorrect. The whole trick to fashion is to spin the wheel fast enough to keep the ladies too busy to notice the repetition.

"But it's fun this way," say the local ladies as they scrutinize a wing sleeve which could be a gown if the government would permit and the fitted, fur-trimmed shorties which look as if the government would look as if they had been taken from the back of a little young coosack.

Old As Helioglyphics

The side drapey on the dresses is as old as the funny little people in Egyptian carvings, but it's still the very newest thing. Or almost the newest thing—the heeled thing known of course, anything in black. This year's dress dresses run the color gamut from black to black with promises of a few other colors cropping up later—but later.

"It's just a matter of re-education," muttered a New Castle salesgirl as customers kept looking for something more colorful.

"They keep remembering all the browns and tanneries and greens and fuchsiads that were our last year," she explained. "For some reason, dyes and textiles seem to be more restricted this year than last and people will just have to learn that black is ten times smarter than color, as far as many of them are concerned."

Collarless Jacket

Not many high colors are seen in the suits being shown throughout the city. Coming in browns, greens, greys, black, in some lighter shades such as beige and mustard, the suits are being shown with collarless jackets, one-button jackets, "fly sleeves" and suit talking. For the most part, they are as dressy as last year's suits, coming in 100 per cent wools and in gabardine.

Moving into the suit category, many of the shorties coats, although fur-trimmed and as heavily lined as any other winter coat, have machine-made skirts. An outfit like this gives a model in a local store window the costumed look that New York is and, to love this year, shorties don't have to be fitted, though. In some of the 36-inch, full-swinging coats are about the most colorful items of clothing to be found anywhere in town. Within the city limits, you can find the royal blue, light green, red and mustard varieties—plain or with additional details as broad trim, applique, mink-style and belted covered with pointed metal studs.

Make Way For Mouton

If one goes by what is on exhibition, mouton lamb seems to be the love of the year. You can have it in either nutria or logwood, full-length or shortie. Or you may just have it as trimming on your coat. It's the breeziest little item in the fur business, although all of the furs are doing right well by themselves. They are sporting "new" sleeves, right at the wrist so you can push them up and they have Adrian shoulders, and some have turn-back cuffs, and the tuxedo front that took the town last year. Mink, the silver-blue kind, is hiding the moutons, according to a rumor overheard in a store.

Reverting to dresses, those short-sleeved, short-skirted, which have been seen around the city this summer are still good in dark dress-up dresses, for fall, despite the advent of the wing sleeve. The trouble is, complaints the proprietors of one downtown dress shop, the dresses also are coming with a lot of fullness in the front and no one seems to like that.

Junior dresses are a bright lot, however, and lucky is the gal who can slide into one of these fishing wools or jerseys. As for the college clothes, they're the same as last year's and the year before that—sweaters and bright wool suits and blazers and bobble sox. And a black date dress. So far, the mink-nipped-in-the-middle look of Paris clothes has not hit this locality too hard, and even if it does, the effect won't be without precedent. In fact, the newest new dress is the one that's new at all, but the re-shifting has been such fun for the past 5,000 years.

Believe Truman Had Assurance Of Russian Aid

Believe He Left Potsdam Conference With Definite Program Of Soviet Aid In Jap War

By PIERRE J. HUSS
U. S. Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Believers familiar with President Truman's determination that the Pacific war end swiftly were confirmed that he left the Potsdam conference with definite assurances of Russian aid.

The announcement, when it came, fell like a bombshell among Russian, United States and British troops in Berlin, who cheered, clinked glasses, and pledged the eternal friendship of the Big Three Nations.

At the same time, the Soviet leaders had aimed long-sought rumors among German civilians that conflict between the allies was inevitable.

Boy Hunter Loses License Because Of Injury To Friend

MERCER, Aug. 10.—When announced Wednesday afternoon in the office of Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain at Mercer in Game Commissioner Referee W. C. Sharkey of Harrisburg, Leo Daniel Parke, aged 15, of R. D. 2, Shickler, Pa., was found the privilege of a hunting license as temporary during the next two years. The action of the game commission resulted from Parke's accidental shooting of his hunting companion, Donald Eugene Molloy, aged 15, of R. D. 1, Sharpville.

The two boys, high school students, testified that they were hunting when Molloy, who was in front, saw a rabbit and told his

MORE PORK SET FOR CIVILIANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Sharon more pork products for American citizens, starting August 12, was promised today by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

He announced a further release of 20 per cent in the government's stockpile of pork products from Federal Government warehouses, which had been ordered effective at 22.50 cents per pound, from August 12 until September 1.

The secretary estimated the release of government stockpile would provide the civilians about 12,000,000 pounds of pork a week, more than twice the amount that would have been supplied.

U. S. Forces In Aleutians To Be War Factor

NORTH PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, ALEUTIANS, Aug. 10.—(INS)—A two-pronged pincer of Soviet and U. S. naval and aerial might stood ready today to punch off the northernmost reaches of Japan.

U. S. Fleet and Airwing commanders on the Aleutians, enthusiastically greeting the entrance of Russia into the war with Japan, emphasized the nearness of American bases to Soviet territory.

Early clashes between Soviet naval forces and remnants of Japan's once-mighty sea power were foreseen by Aleutian observers. They said it was entirely possible these would take place in Shimushu strait—the six-mile stretch of water separating Japan's Shimushu island from Russia's Kamchatka peninsula.

Vice Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher, chief of U. S. North Pacific Navy forces, declared that under his command will "cooperate with Russia" in the now-common fight against Japan.

Nearness of his forces with those of Russia was emphasized by Maj. John B. Brooks, commander of the U. S. Army 11th Air Force based on the Aleutians.

"Our planes," he said, "have been striking the Japanese homeland longer and in closer proximity than any other Allied forces. Naturally, we welcome the appearance of our long-time Russian ally."

Russia's entry into the war opens up a broad semicircle of operations against Japanese islands northward to the Siberian Straits, and suddenly increases the tempo of the war along the Arctic Circle.

Employment of "shuttle-bomb" tactics against Northern Japan was foreseen by some observers, with U. S. planes in the Aleutians landing in Siberia instead of being forced to make round trips in the face of quickly changing adverse weather.

Martial Law In Occupied China

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Tokyo radio reported today that the Japs had declared martial law in the occupied areas of China to prevent panic in the wake of Russia's war declaration.

The broadcast, heard by the FCC, said formal warnings had been issued to all Japanese soldiers and Japanese and Chinese civilians to maintain order despite the Soviet invasion. Punishment by "martial law" was promised for violators.

Russia Has Old Score To Settle

Call Upon Russian Forces In Manchukuo To Smash Jap Imperialism

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The Siberian radio at Khabarovsk, in a special broadcast to the Russian Far Eastern forces, called today upon the Red army to "settle an old score" with Japan.

Urging the Soviet troops to bend every effort to smash Japanese "imperialism" in order that "mankind can breathe freely after getting rid of aggression," the broadcast reviewed Jap acts against Russia. The radio, as heard by the FCC, termed the Jap imperialists as "the worst enemies of our people and all the peace-loving peoples of the earth."

Jap Aims Sees "The Japanese imperialists seized Korea, Manchuria, and attacked China, occupying a considerable part of it," the transmission said in part.

The main aim of this was to secure a platform for attack on the Soviet Union, on which they have had designs for a long time. The Japanese leaders have more than once loudly proclaimed that they want to occupy Soviet soil up to the Urals."

Couple In Mae West Belts Swim Grand Canyon Rapids

BOULDER CITY, Nev., Aug. 10.—(INS)—Bobbing in the dangerous waters of the Colorado river in lower Grand Canyon, Harry Aleson, formerly of Los Angeles, and George White, Los Angeles woman hiker, skier and swimmer, recently traveled 60 miles down the dangerous river in Navy Mae West life preservers, with airtight cans containing provisions strapped to their backs.

Pulled under water time and again by giant whirlpools of the swollen river, the pair came up always in time to gulp air and go on, finding the whirlpools "tougher" than the rapids.

After three days of this pioneering venture in the water they reached the head of Lake Mead July 4 and later arrived safely in Boulder City.

Aleson, who has made many upstream forays in his motorboat, "Tip Colorado," setting new records for upstream travel on the treacherous stream that hewed out the Grand Canyon, knew of the 30-some-odd persons who have lost their lives going through Grand Canyon in boat parties that came to grief. He wanted to know whether, if a boat should crack up during an upstream journey, the party could float out with life preservers and gear, to escape the giant gorge, whose sheer walls cannot be scaled in many places.

He and George White know now for the first time that it can be done. But they do not advise it for a week-end lark. "Don't do it," they advise.

Holding hands, to keep from being separated, the swimmers found themselves drawn into one of the worst whirlpools and Aleson was pulled under immediately. George White, holding his hand, knew she was due to be pulled in, so she gulped air, upended and plumped in head first.

At last they rose, lungs nearly bursting, gulped air and went down again, twice more, before getting clear of the pool.

"You can't control your travel," Aleson said. "You go where the water takes you. It's so powerful. When we started we thought we'd get ashore occasionally to rest up and dry out. But the river lets you do that only rarely—with big life preserver and back to impede your swimming."

The pair hiked down a side canyon to the river from Peach Springs, Ariz., coming to the Colorado at Mile 220 below Lee's Ferry.

ry". Aleson had previously cached food in two places along the 60-mile stretch of river.

"They carried cameras, medical supplies and food in sealed cans, strapped on with army packs, and wore swim suits, shirts and rubber tennis shoes, with kapok coats outside the "Mae Wests".

The first day they traveled 14 miles, the second 27, in about six and eight hours respectively, getting out three times each day.

"They saw wild burros and a mother fox with two cubs, also a few lone army bombers, while floating the "four per cent salt" river.

Aleson was a Los Angeles geophysicist for seven years, also former lookout for the U. S. Forest Service at Mt. Wilson. He has been exploring in Grand Canyon for the past few years.

George White is a member of the Sierra club of California, Los Angeles chapter, also a member of Civilian Air Patrol Group 5. She is employed by the DeRoss Candy company in Los Angeles. Her daughter was killed a year ago while she and her mother were on a bicycle trip from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara.

HARRISBURG—Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer revealed that an act of 1899 called for the appointment of a sidepath commission with jurisdiction over sidewalks and paths for the use of bicyclists.

Doctor Resigns To Protest Unhealthy Mining Communities

DUBOIS, Pa., Aug. 10.—(INS)—A seven-member citizens' committee today requested Shawmut Mining Company officials to confer with it on methods of correction sanitary conditions in three small mining communities which caused the resignation of company doctor Elizabeth Hayes and the subsequent walk-out of miners.

The committee submitted a letter to John D. Dickson, president and for 49 years receiver of the company, and Frank C. Lambert, general manager. A meeting August 17 was asked.

Dr. Hayes, pretty 32-year-old physician, resigned her company job in protest against the conditions and 350 miners walked off their jobs in mid-July protesting the lack of a company doctor.

Forer Byrnsdale and Hollywood were the towns involved. State Health Department officials investigated and found wells in the towns contaminated from nearby toilets.

Youth, Two Girls Dies In Plane Crash Near Clarion, Pa.

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Aug. 10.—(INS)—Raymond Roberts, 18, Mt. Lebanon, today did not report for army induction.

Forty acres of the grounds are in Findley township and 19 in Mercer.

BEAVERDALE—Hass-steady may be a thing of the past in the west but two local men who failed to keep aware of the trend toward law and order were jailed for stealing two ponies.

Babson Discusses British Election And Stock Market

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 10.—When Churchill's defeat was announced by radio, the stock market started to crumble. When, however, investors began to realize that it would take years for England to get its socialistic plans into action and perhaps then would fail to succeed, these people began to buy back securities.

The market has since returned to normal. There are several reasons for this.

England Sure to Inflation
I have long thought that inflation is inevitable; in fact it is going on every day. Nothing can stop it except a great spiritual awakening which will cause us to put the good of all before our own selfishness. I, however, now see no sign of this. Hence, the United States is headed for higher prices, higher wages, higher rents and higher stock values. The people of the world are "on the march" demanding inflation.

I am more sure of this than ever since the labor government of England won by such a large majority. This will enable them to take over the Bank of England and issue all the money they need for their socialistic experiments. Whether or not these will be a success, no one now knows. In 15 or more years, higher prices, higher wages, higher rents and higher stock values. The people of the world are "on the march" demanding inflation.

Stocks Not Too High
Compared with panic prices of ten years ago, the stock market now seems high to many conservative people. This is because the stock average was only 30 in 1932 compared with 110 today. Yet only as far back as 1937, these same stocks sold at about 130; while in 1929 they sold for 280. With the British government and the Bank of England backing inflation, some stocks may well again sell at 1929 highs.

"What should I buy?" you ask. Well, the safest procedure is to diversify among a wide list, buying the leading stocks in 15 or more industries, omitting the rails, air-plane manufacturing and shipping stocks. If you pinned me down to three groups I should advise the merchandising group, especially the variety chains; the insurance group, especially the casualty stocks; and well-managed real estate. These are the groups in which I am investing my money.

Billions Awaiting Investment
Fifty-five years ago there were only about one or two billions of "loose change" in pockets and cash drawers. It took about 50 years to build this up to seven billions. During the past five years this loose change has jumped from seven billions to 28 billions! This means it has quadrupled in five years. During this same five years bank deposits have doubled and are now over $100,000,000,000.

This nearly equals the assessed values of every acre of land and every building of every kind in the entire United States. When one considers that there are no more securities available for purchase than there were five years ago, it seems as if higher prices for stocks and land are inevitable. Sooner or later this loose change is going to seek investment. Churchill's defeat should hasten the day.

Low Interest Rates
Let us consider interest rates. It was not long ago that government bonds paid over 4½ per cent; savings bank accounts paid 3½ per cent while we got 2 per cent on our checking accounts. Today these interest rates are down to 2 per cent, 1 per cent and zero—lower than ever before in the history of the world.

Yet anyone can buy today good corporation bonds to yield 3½ per cent and good stocks to yield more. People should soon get tired of leaving their money idle in the banks at 1 per cent or at no interest when they can get so much more from good securities. When the public realizes this, the demand for good dividend paying stocks should greatly increase.

Advice To Young People
One thing which I must mention in closing is this: The British elections will cause most of Europe to follow with socialistic experiments. The movement will temporarily cast its shadow on the United States. This means that every family should own a little fertile land and every young person should become an expert in some profession, art or trade.

Says Atomic Bombs Could Wipe Out World Population

Prominent Physician Also Declares
That Death By New Bomb
Is Painless

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Dr. Karl Herzfeld, prominent physician, said today that use of the atomic bomb in a third world war could wipe out the entire population of the earth.

At the same time he said that death by disintegration is a painless process for victims of the new bomb.

The 53-year-old Vienna-born scientist was widely known in Europe as a famous physician before he came to the United States. For nine years he has headed the physics department at Catholic university in Washington.

Peace-time Benefits Uncertain
"It is impossible to say definitely what peace-time benefits will be possible as a result of this development," Dr. Herzfeld said. "It all depends upon the nature of the process and that we shall probably not know for some time."

The widespread use of this weapon in another world war, however, could wipe out the people of the earth. If it is a consolation, death from such a bomb is instantaneous. You would never know what hit you.

There is little danger that Germany and Japan will be able to develop that atomic bomb so long as the allies maintain access to the progress nations, the physicist said.

"This is not something which can be done in secret," he explained. "It takes a huge factory or factories. It would not go unnoticed."

Dr. Herzfeld declared that even the contribution of the new process to the advance of the science of physics cannot be calculated until the secret of the atom-smashing process is made known.

Veterans Advisory Council Selects
Dr. Green As Head

At a meeting of the Veterans' Advisory Council, held in the Castle-ton hotel, Judge W. Walter Braham submitted his resignation as chairman of the council, pointing out that he had accepted the chairmanship only as a temporary measure until the council could be organized and gotten under way.

Succeeding Judge Braham, Dr. C. C. Green, former superintendent of school, was named. He had served as co-chairman of the council. The work of co-ordinating the activities of the council is underway and in a short time the entire organization should be functioning. Dr. Green will represent the Greater New Castle Association replacing Roger Jewett until a successor is elected.

In the past session of the General Assembly legislation was passed providing that municipal bodies could finance the work of the council instead of by private subscription. A committee consisting of Dr. Green, A. Lewis Conn and George Gettins was named to investigate the acts and take up with the proper officials the matter of establishing and financing the headquarters of the council here.

Since V-E Day, some 1250 veterans have returned to Lawrence county. It was later, and from April to the present time some 450 veterans have been released and returned to this county.

Pfc. P. V. McKinley
Gets Commendation

Willow Grove Soldier In Patrol
Fight With Japs, Wiping Them
Out, No Casualty

Mr. and Mrs. William R. McKinley of Willow Grove have received word sent out from headquarters concerning their son, Pfc. Paul V. McKinley who is attached to the Sixth Army, stationed in Luzon, in the Philippines. The commendation statement is as follows:

"Although caught between three heavy Jap machine guns, two 'woodpecker' automatic rifles of the 38th division patrol, which included Pfc. Paul V. McKinley, killed nine Japs as the force fought its way through dense undergrowth without a casualty. Under constant Jap fire the patrol forced its way through the bamboo thickets and entangled vines, where the enemy was dug in. The patrol reached a sister company, where reinforcements were picked up, and went back and wiped out the balance of the Japs."

Pfc. McKinley has been in the armed forces over two years and located in the Pacific about eighteen months.

Monitors On Guam
Did Not Pick Up
Japanese Message

GUAM, Aug. 10.—(INS)—FCC monitors on Guam said tonight shortly before 11 p. m. that they had picked up no Japanese home service broadcasts referring to a possible Japanese capitulation.

The monitors said they "understood" that Tokyo had broadcast by short wave a statement saying the Japanese government had sent a note through neutral Switzerland and Sweden accepting terms of the Potsdam ultimatum with the provision that Emperor Hirohito remain head of the government.

FCC monitors on Guam who do not usually record Japanese short wave broadcasts were doing so tonight.

The last "interesting" item heard by this means, FCC said, came about 10 p. m. Guam time (3 a. m. PWT).

This item said the Russians had invaded the Japanese section of southern Sakhalin and crossed the Korean border.

The Ceylon radio, in a broadcast heard on Guam, quoted what was called a "New York" report of the capitulation story.

Helping Rebuild
Port Of Le Havre

LE HAVRE, France, Aug. 10.—(INS)—A total of 550 Parisian medical and law students arrived today to devote a month of their summer vacation to rebuilding this war-torn port where more than 30,000 people are homeless.

With the students also were 300 skilled workers and technicians.

Still a second detachment of patriotic French students is due later this month.

The students were given an official send-off when Labor Minister Parodi went to the Gare St. Lazare, Paris, to see their special train leave for the battered port.

FRUIT TREES BEST BUDDED THIS MONTH

August is the best month for budding fruit trees, although the work is frequently started in July in nurseries and continued into early September.

Young trees of undesirable varieties or seedling trees may be changed to superior varieties by budding. Often young orchards are planted without due regard to problems of pollination and it becomes necessary to change the variety of a few of the trees in order to supply pollen for causing a good set of fruit later. Budding is an excellent way to do the job.

Although not practiced as much as grafting, budding is an easier way to change the variety of any kind of young fruit, particularly cherries, peaches and plums. With young trees, a half-inch in diameter, a single bud can be inserted in the trunk a few inches above the ground and the entire top of the original tree cut off just above the bud, the following spring. With larger trees, several of the main branches may be budded.

For successful budding, the bark of the stock must "slip" readily, and well-developed buds must be available. Both these conditions can be met this month, provided the stock is healthy and in a vigorous condition. If the bark is sticking, it may loosen and again "slip" readily for a time following a good rain.

DRYING SWEET CORN

Favorite for flavor among all home dried vegetables is sweet corn. Drying offers a good method for preserving corn — considered the hardest vegetable to can successfully at home—without a pressure cooker.

Only good fresh corn dries well. Select ears in the milk stage, just right for cooking. Pick only as much corn as can be handled at one time. Husk ears, cut out defects. Boil the corn 7 to 8 minutes. Cut corn from the cob with a sharp knife and spread evenly on drying trays in half-inch layers.

In cloudless, arid climates, corn dries successfully in the sun, Indian-fashion. For sun-drying, lay a thin cloth over wire trays, window screens, or slat trays, so air can circulate under and over the corn. Cover corn with another thin cloth to keep out insects and dirt. Place in sun and stir two or three times a day. Be sure to take trays in at night before dewfall or a shower.

For oven drying, it is necessary to have trays that fit the oven and allow for air circulation. These may be made by stretching coarse netting across wooden frames. Without a thermometer, it is almost impossible to control temperature in oven drying. Almost any deep-fat, candy, dairy, or oven thermometer will do.

Dry corn at 150 degrees F. Leave oven door slightly ajar. Stir the corn and turn trays every half hour. Watch the corn carefully to prevent scorching—particularly at the end of the drying period, about 8 hours after corn has been put in oven.

Corn thoroughly dried is so brittle it shatters when hit with a hammer. Test by pouring a few grains. After turning off heat, open oven door wider, and let food stay in the oven an additional hour. Added warmth will not harm corn, but one damp kernel can spoil the whole batch.

MacArthur Reports 58 More Japanese Ships Are Blasted

Four Intercepting Zero Planes Are Shot Down In Encounters With U. S. Fighters

MANILA, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Sinkings of 58 additional Japanese vessels by planes of Gen. MacArthur's air forces was announced Thursday in Manila.

Bombs and rockets from low-flying B-25's of the Fifth Airforce sank a Jap gunboat and four small cargo ships in the Tausima Straits off Korea. A 6,000-ton freighter was left in a sinking condition while two small cargo vessels, a large sailing ship and two large freighters were damaged.

Zeros Shot Down

Four intercepting Zeros were shot down by Fifth Airforce Mustangs between Korea and Kyushu, while two Liberator bombers killed three on Makino Island off South Korea. A B-24 damaged three freighters in Japan's inland sea.

Other warplanes, said MacArthur's communique, ranged southward to Malaya and the East Indies in strikes carried out Sunday and Monday.

Seventh Fleet planes wrecked a freighter transport and eleven cargo ships off South Indo-China and also damaged or destroyed 12 freighters along the Malay coast.

Australian planes joined Seventh Fleet bombers in destroying or crippling another 18 Jap cargo vessels in the Makassar Strait and the Molucca Sea. Navy patrol planes damaged a freighter and two coastal vessels off Batavia.

In the lower Sunda, Allied planes joined light warships in wrecking a freighter off the Mangrove Islands.

Japan Conquest May Necessarily Be By Air Force

Rays Freed By Blast Would Be Dangerous To Invading Force Is Belief

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Radioactive rays released by the devastating atomic bomb may make the conquest of Japan an air force job rather than one for invasion troops.

Dr. Malcolm Dole, Northwestern University chemistry professor, declared the rays freed by the blast of the bomb would be "dangerous for from a few hours to a few days."

Heavy rain or winds could dissipate the particles, he added. Invading armies, Dole said, either would have to take "precautionary measures" or else invasion by land would have to give way to bombardment by air because of the deadly rays.

Dole, who helped in the pioneering of the new weapon, said the Italian physicist, Dr. Enrico Fermi, inspected the new Mexican test area after the atomic blast in a specially-constructed "tank."

Postwar Range Of Weather Service May Be Picnics-To-Drugs

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. Aug. 10.—(INS)—The weatherman will really come into his own after this war.

Dr. H. H. Neuberger, chief of the meteorological division at the Pennsylvania State college, expects thousands of service-trained meteorologists to stay in this field.

To relieve overworked, understaffed weather bureaus, the Penn State expert looks for many different kinds of industries to employ their own specialists after the war. "Even in the field of medicine meteorology is useful," he claims, explaining "the weather affects the behavior of patients and the speed of their recovery from certain diseases."

Weather forecasts help the food, chemical, and pharmaceutical industries to plan shipment of their products so that spoilage will be minimized. He said and power companies need readily available information on the frequency and intensity of storms, as well as their path of travel.

"Many a boy who went into this war from other fields, and who took advantage of specialized training will be glad if when postwar opportunities open up," Neuberger opined.

INSPECT EQUIPMENT

After a trip to Hollidaysburg and Chambersburg, the group of county officials making the trip to inspect recording and addressographing equipment are enthusiastic over the possibilities for use here.

In Hollidaysburg they saw a photostatic machine that does the work quickly and efficiently and turns out deeds, discharges and other instruments in fast time.

In the group were County Commissioners Earl R. Warner, Karl T. Rohrer, Joseph F. Travers, Register and Recorder Oleville Potter, County Controller Andrew M. Doud, Prothonotary John A. Edsall, Chief assessor John D. Patterson and Veterans Administrator A. Lewis Conn.

New Amplifier Lets Young Girl Lives Sour Notes Stay Sour Despite Heart Leak

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Is nothing sacred?

Science has invaded the musical world and as a result the third above can no longer count on the volume of his fellow musicians to cover up his musical deviation when he decides "act means 'take it' and not 'softly'."

Instead of a "bunch of sound" the new amplification system caused "auditory perspective" and each instrument's notes with amazing clarity to the ears of the listeners. Music lovers attending the five band concerts every Sunday on Flagstaff Hill in Pittsburgh can now cast scornful glances at the offender while he sweats and whines maybe he had taken up plumbing.

Halsey's Fleet Members Discuss New Atomic Bomb

WITH ADM. HALSEY'S FLEET OFF JAPAN, Aug. 10—(INS)—News of atomic bombing caught America's vaunted third fleet with its shock absorbers down and tossed it around in a typhoon of bewilderment for many hours today.

Seamen and officers alike were feverish with excitement and wild conjecture after learning that the new weapon had been used on Japan.

The president's words on the revolutionary weapon called in action the smooth sea as the men of Admiral William F. Halsey's fleet prepared to terminate a nine-day blackout "vacation" and return to pounding Japan.

It started a variety of emotions. Men of this fleet didn't quite know whether to cheer an apparent advance on final victory or bring a quick end to what they felt might dwarf their own war efforts.

Someone quickly dubbed the Hiroshima attack date as "disintegration day", but it didn't seem very funny.

At the same time, the full significance of the development and an inexplicable deep-seated fear that America might have built a Frankenstein monster were repeatedly expressed reactions.

We were probably among the first Americans to the scene when the first atomic bomb destroyed Hiroshima. Yet we were among the last to get the word.

Most navy men welcomed the advent of the new bomb as a triumph of American scientific brains in a mad race against death.

Many viewed the discovery as a certain stopper of war, cutting the last excuse for prolonging the conflict from under the feet of Japan's war lords.

More conservative seamen wondered if the weapon could be controlled adequately but not to be heard was any cry against its use as either too harsh or inhuman. These men know their enemy.

Officers in wardrooms on capital ships fought visibly to restrain exuberance, but on decks, at gun-mounts and in quarters enlisted men cut loose.

"Home" was the word on all lips and the war's end was actually being waged in terms of days or weeks.

Pseudo-scientists blossomed in a twinkling and held forth in lively groups, profoundly elucidating every detail of the bomb's technicalities which real savants had puzzled over for years.

A few serious-minded men spoke earnestly of war's end, but of the world's end, should so terrible a weapon ever get out of hand.

It started a variety of emotions. Men of this fleet didn't quite know whether to cheer an apparent advance on final victory or bring a quick end to what they felt might dwarf their own war efforts.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10—(INS)—Sophia M. R. O'Hara, 63-year-old secretary of welfare, has been criticized by some assemblymen recently for her supervision of the department. During the last session of the General Assembly, a bloc of lawmakers sought to eliminate the department and transfer its duties elsewhere. Chief complaint against Miss O'Hara from subordinates is that she refuses to delegate authority but attempts to direct all of the department's branches without the aid of deputies. Miss O'Hara was placed in the cabinet as secretary of the commonwealth by ex-Governor James in line with a campaign pledge and Governor Martin bowed to the demand of the Council of Republican Women and appointed her to head the welfare department.

Miss O'Hara, one of the few career women in politics, turned in a capable job as commonwealth secretary and was not criticized during the first two and a half years of her stewardship in the welfare department. However, when trouble broke out in penal institutions she became the target of disgruntled subordinates. Indications on Capitol Hill point to the appointment by the next governor of a person with a background of institutional supervision in view of the long range penal improvement program proposed by the legislature.

The house and senate have just issued the final histories of legislation considered by the General Assembly. A survey of the bills introduced disclosed that Rep. Thomas H. Lee (R) of Philadelphia introduced more bills than any of his colleagues. He introduced 46 of which nine were passed after he persuaded a Democrat to co-sponsor the bill while others he piloted to Governor Martin's desk without aid.

Pep Thomas J. Heatherington (D) of Allegheny won the honors on the minority side. He introduced 24 measures or four more than Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews of Cambria. The senate crown was won by Sen. Wallace Gouley (D) of Washington, who sponsored 70 bills of which only a few were approved. Sen. John M. Walker (R) of Allegheny captured honors for the GOP with 60 measures, but he succeeded in persuading the governor to approve less than one-third.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor has acclaimed a new educational program established by its machinists' branch at Newport. In order to stimulate the interest of youngsters in labor problems they may face in the future, the union has sponsored an annual essay contest, awarding cash prizes for the best discourses of labor topics.

Such a plan if generally adopted within the trade union movement, would have vast educational possibilities in presenting the cause of labor, said PFL officials. It would be a public relations aid in communities large and small throughout the commonwealth.

British Opinion Is That Japanese Will Quit Shortly

LONDON, Aug. 10—(INS)—British quarters pictured Japan today as a "besieged and hopeless land" and most observers believed that it can be a matter of only weeks—or possibly even days—before the Japs quit.

Russian entry into the Pacific conflict was seen as giving the "decisive push" to Japanese inclinations to surrender.

Even the most sober military opinion believes that the Japs will make only a face-saving stand against the Russians, but that this will not be a serious and that the "decisive push" to Japanese inclinations to surrender.

Amid applause given the Soviet declaration, several experts pointed out that Moscow's action is not completely altruistic. The Russians, they say, have old and bitter scores to settle and long-grounded ambitions in the far east to which it can now be assumed the Soviets are now formally staking claims.

It is believed that the Russians want inner and outer Mongolia linked as a single republic under Soviet protection, as well as creation of an independent Korean republic also under Moscow's wing. Moreover, the U. S. S. R. aims probably to include the restoration of Port Arthur and Dairen, and the Chinese eastern railroad linking up with the trans-Siberian line at Vladivostok.

At any rate, Russian intervention was welcomed and hailed in Britain as the clearest demonstration of Allied solidarity that the world could have received.

Seeks To Provide More Beef Supplies

Secretary Anderson Moving To Lift Beef Subsidy Program By July 1, 1946

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson disclosed he is moving to lift the beef subsidy program to producers by July 1, 1946 to make more beef available for civilians.

Following a conference with President Truman, Anderson told reporters he is negotiating with the American National Livestock Association as to whether they will approve removal of the subsidy.

Should his proposal be accepted, he said, it would result in an increase in civilian meat prices but would move more cattle to market and make more beef available at retail levels by next winter.

The secretary pointed out, however, that he must first win the approval of Economic Stabilizer Davis and other government officials before the beef subsidy program could be abandoned.

He said the live stock association members are balloting on the plan now and will be ready to make a report within two weeks.

Anderson said that "we are not getting the meat fun we would like to have" during the normal marketing season which has just begun.

The secretary told reporters that subsidies have a tendency to "stick" and that he personally would like to see them removed as rapidly as possible for resumption of normal conditions in peace-time.

Government subsidy payments on beef cattle now average about 400 million dollars a year.

Three Allied Scientists Hold Secret Of Bomb

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Rep. J. Buel Snyder (D-Pa.) disclosed today that the world's greatest secret—the mystery of the atom—is locked in the breasts of three allied scientists.

They are the only men in the world who know the secret of the atomic bomb," Snyder told International News Service in an exclusive interview. "I can't disclose their names. All I can say is that if they do not talk, the secret may always remain with them."

Snyder is chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee on the war department. He had much to do with getting Congress to appropriate the funds needed for research and development of the atomic bomb.

First Funds Provided
 Snyder disclosed:

1. The first funds for the "Manhattan engineering district" the code name which cloaked the gigantic work on which more than two million dollars were spent, were made available by President Roosevelt without consultation with Congress.

2. Although Congress voted non-unanimous sum for the work only a comparative handful of members had any inkling of what was happening. Now known for years later, this work was underway on an atomic bomb.

3. Five members of the House appropriations committee were permitted to view the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant earlier this year after the war department was convinced that its experimentation was nearing a successful conclusion.

Apparently acting on the advice of military leaders, President Roosevelt "took the plunge" that launched the epic-making work on the atomic bomb by providing the initial money from his emergency fund, which Congress had made available "without strings."

The president found, however, that more funds would have to be made available by Congress.

Told Of Plans
 Sometime in 1943, Snyder told President Roosevelt called him to the White House.

He told me that we were manufacturing something that would be more destructive than anything yet devised, more powerful than rockets, or anything dropped by planes," declared Snyder.

"He emphasized that 'speed and haste are the essentials,' that Germany was working on it also. At no time, however, did he give me any inkling that work was proceeding on an atomic bomb."

"Snyder then called a secret meeting of his subcommittee at which Gen. George Marshall, army chief of staff, impressed upon the group the need for funds for 'a very important work.'"

The subcommittee voted 800 million dollars to begin with, and this was followed later by hundreds of millions additional.

"We just told the full committee that the money was for military developments and research, that it had been requested by Gen. Marshall that it was of the utmost importance and that no details could be furnished as to its use," declared Snyder.

The committee approved the sum and no one ever raised any questions about it in the House. The secret was never revealed.

SURRENDER OFFER SWEEPS MANILA

People Of City Rejoice Over Report That Japan Is Ready To Quit War

MANILA, Aug. 10.—(INS)—The news of the Jap surrender offer was planned to Gen. Douglas MacArthur today by an aide as word was quickly spreading by word of mouth and radio through the battered streets of Manila.

The news spread like fire through the city, which left one of the first Jap blows of the war and early this year suffered some of the cruelest atrocities ever committed in the name of Nippon's emperor.

The first flash on this news reached the press wireless office shortly after 9 p. m. and the small, undermanned Filipino operator shouted:

"Win!"

Others quickly gathered around the machine, gripped the small keys, and cheered restrainedly. And so surrounding Donaghi's, the Filipino said:

"Now you can go home!"

Manila Comes To Life
 These Manilaans had undergone the Jap bombings in December 1941 and had endured over three years of occupation. Now on "surrender" night Manila began to come to life although it was still unrecognizable as the old time city.

When Gen. George C. Kenney, Far East Air Force leader, was informed of the news, he said:

"Absolutely no comment."

A statement by Philippine President Sergio Osmeña added to the general optimistic outlook. Osmeña said:

"Her (Japan's) reported unconditional acceptance of the Potsdam ultimatum will bring to a triumphant conclusion this war for justice and democracy."

The people of freedom loving nations can turn their names and hearts toward the tremendous task of healing the wounds caused by this great and terrible conflict and build a new and better world wherein all men, regardless of creed or race, may find peace and security and complete opportunity to dedicate their lives to the pursuit of civilization.

May the United Nations cooperate in this task as fully as they did in the war."

They are Hazel Monroe, of Catherine street, and Helen Dygert, of the Wilmington road in Neshannock township, and they have departed to take up their new duties on the Pacific coast.

Truman Keeps To Lengthy Calling List During Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—President Truman kept to his extremely lengthy calling list today despite the tenseness of the Japanese war situation.

This perhaps indicated that some hours might intervene before official confirmation of the Japanese offer to surrender comes through official channels.

The president's calling list apparently had nothing whatsoever to do with the war against Japan. He had 17 callers scheduled in addition to the early morning meeting of his top advisers, as well as a regular cabinet meeting this afternoon.

Sanitary Fixtures For Oak Ridge From New Castle

New Castle had a part in the atomic bomb plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., it became known today. The sanitary fixtures used in the plant, such as bowls and lavatories were made in the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company's New Castle, Pa., plant.

For the past two years the local company has been supplying the plant with the fixtures as to what was being manufactured in the plant. All shipments bore a high priority and the amount of pieces shipped runs into the thousands.

Republican Is Likely To Get Place In Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(INS)—President Truman was reported today toward the appointment of a Harding-Hoover Republican, Judge Orie Leon Phillips, of New Mexico, to the Supreme court as a successor to Owen J. Roberts.

The president has not yet made up his mind finally. He may eventually name a Democrat, as is being urged upon him by Democratic National headquarters.

Judge Phillips is now on the tenth circuit court of appeals, which holds its sessions in Denver.

High authority states the names of five potential nominees are on the president's desk. Phillips leads this list.

The others are Sen. Warren Austin, of Vermont; Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, of New York; Federal Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina; all Republicans; and Federal Judge Sherman Minton, of Indiana, a Democrat.

Minton Likely
Minton, longtime Senate "brand" of the president, rules a favorite if a Democrat is named. Minton is now serving on the seventh circuit court of appeals, which sits in Chicago.

Sen. Austin was boomed for the high court by friends in the Senate. Both Republicans and Democrats endorsed him. Sen. Carl Hatch of N. M., a friend of the president, recently withdrew an endorsement of his lifetime friend, Federal Judge Sam Branton, in order to urge Austin's appointment. Hatch said he was convinced a Republican should be named to succeed Roberts, who was a Republican.

The same argument has been advanced in behalf of both Patterson and Judge Parker. Patterson, however, is being urged for the post by New Dealers.

Democratic National headquarters meanwhile is opposed to the appointment of a Republican. They attack the Republican argument that the Democrats have "hogged" judicial appointments for the last twelve years. They argue the Republicans did the same thing when they held the presidency.

Official figures support this Democratic argument. From 1921 to 1932, when Republicans held the White House, judicial appointments included 211 Republicans and 22 Democrats. Of the Democrats, only twelve were original appointments. In the years 1933 to 1945, when Democrats reigned, judicial appointments included 248 Democrats and 14 Republicans.

State Takes Place In Commission On Potomac River Basin

Martin Signs Five State Agreement Today To Combat Stream Pollution

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Pennsylvania will become an official member of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River basin at noon today when Gov. Edward Martin signs a five-state agreement to combat stream pollution.

Approval of the pact, which was adopted by the General Assembly, was scheduled to follow the opening session of the commission's two-day annual meeting at Harrisburg and Hershey.

In addition to Pennsylvania, representatives from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, the District of Columbia, and the U. S. Public Health Service will attend the meeting.

Speaker of the House Ira T. Fiss, state planning board chief F. A. Pinkin and J. W. Mangan, hydrography director for the department of forests and waters, will represent Pennsylvania.

Both commission and executive committee officers will be elected and zoning plans outlined during the business meeting. Water purity standards will be considered and possible applications for federal aid discussed.

The agenda also called for mapping a long-range anti-pollution program and possible appointment of an industrial or technical committee.

The compact provides for cooperation in "the abatement of existing pollution and control of future pollution" of waters draining into the Potomac River basin.

The commonwealth has joined other states in similar projects on the Delaware and Ohio rivers.

MARTIN ADVANCES SIX-POINT PLAN FOR AGRICULTURE

BEDFORD, Pa., Aug. 10.—(INS)—A six-point program has been advanced by Gov. Edward Martin to assure the maintenance of agriculture in Pennsylvania as a "sound, basic industry."

In a speech opening the Bedford county fair at Bedford yesterday, the chief executive said the commonwealth's postwar program for farmers was aimed at providing more "all-weather" rural roads, rural electrification, improved educational opportunities and medical care for farm children would be guaranteed, he added, and tax reductions considered.

Closer cooperation between agriculture, labor, industry and government will be sought, he added.

"Basically, agriculture in Pennsylvania is sound," he said. "It has done a tremendous job during this war, in spite of its handicaps in manpower and materials."

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(INS)—Home brew being what it is, a Vancouver resident wasn't at all surprised the other day when his house shook and a rumbling shiver shook him from his chair.

"Maybe you'd like to come out and look at my house," he telephoned a Vancouver newspaper. "I think I have the strongest home brew in town—it just blew up."

"Sorry," the operator informed him. "That was an earthquake."

And so it was. The householder, more shaken than ever, looked in the cellar and admitted his steep-beverage hadn't been bothered.

Local Boys Meet In Manila U.S.O.

Word has been received here that Cpl. Charles A. Shepp of 507 South Walnut street of the Army Transportation Corps, arrived at Manila in the Philippines, and met his buddies, Cpl. Fred J. Logan, this city, and Cpl. William McCombs and Cpl. William Colesberry of Morgantown, W. Va.

The group were stationed together a year ago at Angel Island, San Francisco, with the Harbor Craft. After a year, the boys were separated and all were sent to various fighting fronts in the Pacific, where they were engaged in combat battles.

Earlier this month, almost a year later the boys accidentally met together in the U.S.O. in Manila.

Sees Deaths In War Reduced By New Bomb

MANILA, Aug. 10.—(INS)—Dr. Karl Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said today that the atomic bomb "despite its terrible potency, should actually reduce the number of lives lost in this war."

Dr. Compton, a director of the Pacific branch office of scientific research and development, is in Manila with Dr. Donald Lee, geophysics professor at Harvard university.

The two noted American scientists were contributors to the creation of the atomic bomb, which was described by Dr. Lee as a "fantastic, unparallelled, magnificent advance in science."

Most Potent Achievement

Both noted that the weapon is the "most potent scientific achievement in history."

The Harvard professor, who was an observer at the first testing of the bomb in New Mexico, said that the desert crater was fused into quartz.

"The entire sky," Dr. Lee said, "was lit by the brilliance of 12 suns. It was awe-inspiring."

"We weren't quite sure then what was going to happen. Now I'd rather go through a major earthquake."

So great was the flash at the first explosion that a man six miles away was temporarily blinded, Dr. Lee revealed.

He said the killing power of the atomic bomb is derived from both the heat generated and the concussion released by the blast.

NEUTRAL NATIONS ASKED TO ACT IN SURRENDER MOVE

the prerogatives of his majesty as a sovereign ruler."

The Japanese move for cessation of hostilities came less than two days after Russia threw its armed might into the Pacific fray on the side of the Western Allies.

The break came three years, seven months and three days after the Japs staged their infamous sneak attack on American installations at Pearl Harbor, precipitating the bloodiest and most costly war in which the United States has ever engaged.

Text of Message

The text of the message, as recorded by the FCC, read:

"In obedience to the gracious command of his majesty the emperor, who ever anxious to enhance the cause of world peace, desires earnestly to bring about an early termination of hostilities with a view to saving mankind from the calamities to be imposed upon them by further continuation of the war, the Japanese government asked several weeks ago the Soviet government, with which neutral relations then prevailed, to render good offices in restoring peace vis-a-vis the enemy powers."

Unfortunately, these efforts in the interest of peace having failed, the Japanese government, in conformity with the august wish of his majesty to restore the general peace and desiring to put an end to the untold sufferings engendered by the war as quickly as possible, have decided upon the following:

The Japanese government are ready to accept the terms enumerated in the joint declaration which was issued at Potsdam on July 26, 1945, by the heads of the governments of the United States, Great Britain and China, and later subscribed to by the Soviet government with the understanding that the said declaration does not comprise any demand which prejudices the prerogatives of his majesty as a sovereign ruler.

"The Japanese government hope sincerely that this

Transmission Interrupted

At this point the transmission was interrupted. Dornet waited a moment and then said, "Stand by."

Dornet went on the air again at 9:33 a.m. and transmitted a one-sentence conclusion to the text of its purported message after repeating the first part.

The concluding sentence said: "The Japanese government hopes sincerely that this understanding is warranted and desire keenly that an explicit indication to that effect will be speedily forthcoming."

Ever since the introduction of the atom-bombing of Japan's principal cities on Sunday, conjecture has been rife that the Japs would sue for peace.

Adding emphasis to these beliefs was the entrance at midnight Wednesday of the U.S.S.R. on the side of the Western Allies. In announcing the decision to throw its armed might into the Pacific war, Moscow announced that it was fulfilling a "duty" to the U.S., Britain, China, and the other United Nations.

Even before these dramatic developments of the early part of this week, the Japs were reeling on all battlefronts.

SURRENDER OR BE DESTROYED JAPAN IS TOLD

ing Nipponese felt the impact of the destruction of Nagasaki by the second atomic bomb to be dropped by sub-stratosphere American super-bombers. Hiroshima, the first city on which an atomic bomb was dropped, was wiped out Monday with the loss of at least 150,000 lives.

Other Military Secrets

To the awesome power and destructive force of a single atomic bomb, Mr. Truman added these words for the Japanese to consider: "The Japs will soon learn some of the other military secrets agreed upon at Berlin. They will learn them first-hand—and they will not like them."

Shedding further light on the Berlin conference agreements, the President revealed:

1. That Russia agreed to join in the war against Japan before learning of the Anglo-American discovery and production of the cataclysmic atomic bomb.

2. That the United States, Great Britain and Canada will retain the secret of the atomic bomb "until it has been found to control the bomb as so to protect ourselves and the rest of the world from total destruction."

Only Warning

He said that the first atomic attack on Hiroshima "is only a warning of things to come, and added: "If Japan does not surrender, bombs will have to be dropped on war industries and unfortunately thousands of civilian lives will be lost."

"I urge Japanese civilians to leave industrial cities immediately and save themselves from destruction."

The President further disclosed: 1. The United States intends maintaining "the complete protection of our interests and of world peace" while at the same time reserving territorial or financial gains from the war.

2. No secret agreements were made at the Berlin conference "apart from current military arrangements."

A considerable portion of Mr. Truman's report dealt upon the ultimatum to Japan to get out of the war immediately or be destroyed.

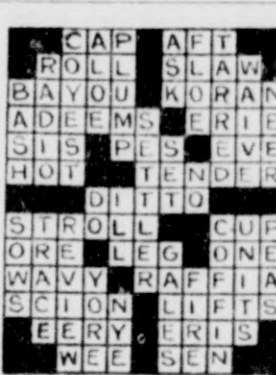

The impact of this overshadowed much of the rest of his report, which gave lengthy explanation of the agreements at Berlin regarding the future disposition of Europe.

WRECKED BY Bombs

The home where Schiller wrote his famous poetry has been wrecked by bombs. It still stands, along with other homes on a fairly central street, but it is in bad shape.

The two-story concrete home of the poet Goethe is undamaged. It is located in a park, smugled under a group of tall trees. It was slightly damaged but stands intact. Two big bomb craters twenty yards from the home indicated it had a narrow escape from destruction.

Major Brown's home is in Scarsdale, N. Y.

NORRISTOWN—Local fire enthusiasts have been looking askance at Fire Chief Riley since they missed a general alarm because the fire whistles failed to sound. He gave assurances, however, that the trouble had been fixed.

McCarthy Leads Yankees To Win Cubs Are Topped

Manager Joe Returns And Yanks Scalp Indians, Tigers Also Win

CHICAGO CUBS LOSE TO BOSTON

By LES CONKIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Old timers today held the center of the baseball stage.

First and foremost, there was Marce Joe McCarthy, master mind of the New York Yankees. Returning to the managerial fold after a self-imposed exile of three weeks, Marce Joe guided the Yanks to a 3 to 2 win over Cleveland.

Marce Joe's return was made a success by another old man, Red Ruffing, who turned in his third straight win for the Yanks since getting out of the army.

Another old-timer, Babe Herman, the headless horseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers once again came through in the clutch. Babe's pinch play in the 12th inning of the matchup with Cincinnati staked the Dodgers to a 4 to 3 win after the Dodgers had won the opener 9 to 2, behind the six-hit pitching of still another old-timer, Al Hoenes.

The Detroit Tigers protected their lead in the American league race by trouncing the Boston Red Sox, 11 to 5. Rudy York hit two homers for the winners, each time with a man on base. Washington stayed with the Tigers by beating the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2, behind Mickey Haefner.

Cubs Lose To Braves
In the National league, the lead of the Chicago Cubs was shaved to five and one-half games when big Bill Lee pitched the Boston Braves to a 7 to 3 win over his former mates. Lee allowed only six hits while the Braves kayaked Paul Derringer.

Harry Brecheen hurled the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5 to 3 decision over the New York Giants, and Steve in two runs to boot.

Ken Gables of the Pirates held the Phils to five hits and won a 3 to 1 duel from Bob Barrett. In a night game in the American league at St. Louis the Browns defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 1 to 0, behind the 3-hit pitching of Al Hoenes.
